JAMES B. MCCREARY

Not An Announced Candidate, But Will Accept Nomination.

Former United States Senator James B. McCreary has made a formal announcement of his position with regard to being a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. He dictated the following statement, which he said clearly sets forth his attitude in the matter:

"Many Democrats have in person and by letter said to me that I should be the Democratic candidate for Governor and if nominated I would have the unanimous support of the Democratic party. Of course, I am very grateful for this evidence of confidence. I did not expect when my term expired in the United States Senate to be a candidate again, but the solicitation of my friends and the kind editorials in a great many newspapers induced me to say to some of my friends who wrote me urgent letters that I would take the subject of my candidacy for Governor under consideration. It is probably about one year before a State Democratic candidate will be nominated. Yet I believe the time has arrived for me to give an answer in some form to my brother Democrats who have honored me.

"I believe the success of the Democratic party in the next State election should be paramount to individual success and I will do all in my power to have a State ticket nominated of Democrats who it is believed will be supported by the whole Democratic party and I will cheerfully support the nominees and make speeches for them. The party to which I have belonged all my life has honored me so often that I believe it is entitled to my services, whenever they are needed or demanded. I believe any Democrat who is nominated fairly by the State Democratic convention should accept, and if I am honored by being nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor I will accept."

State Chairman Prewitt Gives Advice to Party Leaders.

Chairman Henry R. Prewitt, of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee, in the course of an interview at Lexington recently, said:

"The outlook for Democratic success in the Congressional elections next fall and in the election for State officers a year later is very encouraging. There is, however, one thing that I would like to say to the Democrats of Kentucky at this time, and that is let us get successfully through these congressional races before we begin to talk about State offices. There will be ample time for announcements for State offices when we are through with the election next November.

"The election of Congressmen this fall is very important, and I think it would be good policy for the Democrats of the State to bend all their energies this year to these elections. We will have a whole year to nominate candidates for State offices and make the campaign for their election. Surely this is plenty of time and I think the Democrats had better let the State offices alone now and bend all their energies to electing Congressmen."

Sealed bids must be filed with County Clerk on or before 12 o'clock noon of Tuesday, June 21, 1910.

Judge Grubbs Affirmed.

Some months ago, Attorney Chas. D. Grubbs, of this city, was appointed Special Judge to try the case of Kozee, etc., vs. Commonwealth, for use, etc., pending in the Elliott Circuit Court. An appeal was taken from his decision to the Court of Appeals. The case involved many technical questions and the higher Court has rendered an opinion affirming Judge Grubbs upon every point.

MUD SLINGING.

Seventh District Political Fight Has Reached This Stage.

The congressional fight in the Seventh District has reached the card-writing stage and both Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell and President Clarence LeBus, of the Burley Tobacco Society, are out in salty statements addressed to the voters of the district.

Congressman Cantrell, who is seeking re-election, has thrown down the gauntlet to the Burley Tobacco Society, which he charges has recently brought out in opposition to him State Senator Claude M. Thomas, of Paris, on account of his position concerning the Burley pool for 1910.

Mr. Cantrell makes an attack on Clarence LeBus, President of the Burley Society, in which he charges that Mr. LeBus, a Republican, is attempting to control the Democratic primary for Congress in the Seventh district through his office as head of the Burley Society.

"I am making this race upon the national platform of the Democratic party. My opponent seems to be running upon a platform outlined for him by the Republican President of the Burley Society."

President LeBus, in a lengthy card, retorts in kind and proposes to fight to the finish. He alleges that Congressman Cantrell has shown his antagonism to the Burley tobacco pool and given aid to the enemy. He says:

"If the people want to support Mr. Cantrell's programme and follow such leadership, they now have an opportunity to do it, but it only means the destruction of our society, and the turning over of all these years of labor to our ancient enemy, the Trust."

New Deputy Sheriff.

In order to discharge more promptly and efficiently the increasing duties of his office, Sheriff Crooks has found it necessary to designate another deputy, which he did in the person of Mr. R. K. Thomas, who entered immediately upon the discharge of his duties. Mr. Thomas is a native of Bourbon county, married Miss Elizabeth Clay, daughter of Mr. M. C. Clay, of this city, some years ago and has since resided here. Enjoying as he does a wide personal acquaintance and influential family connection, the appointment will prove a wise and popular one, and "Rick" as he is familiarly known to his friends may be counted on to "make good" in any position he may be placed.

City Wins.

Circuit Judge J. M. Benton, of Winchester, Ky., after hearing the motion of E. T. Reis, of this city, to dissolve restraining order issued in the suit of City of Mt. Sterling vs. E. T. Reis, (notice of the institution of which suit appeared in our last issue) rendered an opinion overruling the motion to dissolve.

The suit grew out of an effort upon the part of Mr. Reis to repair, without a permit, his frame business house on South Maysville St., recently damaged by an incendiary fire. The opinion of Judge Benton is based upon the idea that the City authorities have and should have a wide discretion in the matter of granting or refusing permits and that the ordinance defining a certain section wherein no frame buildings shall be erected, is a police regulation and necessary for the proper protection of surrounding property.

ADVERTISING RATES

In Newspapers The Cheapest Thing the Merchants Buy.

It is not often that we inflict upon our readers details as to the business or financial affairs of The Herald, but we ask them, particularly those who use the advertising columns of The Herald, to bear with us for a short time, that they may understand something of the increase in the expense of the publication of the paper and appreciate the necessity for an increase in the advertising rates.

During the past five years there has been an increase in every department of the newspaper, amounting in some cases to nearly one hundred per cent. The price of paper and of material—such as linotype and stereotype metal, matrix, paper, Manila paper for wrappers, has advanced steadily. The price of labor has advanced in every department. The five-year contract which we had with the Blue Grass Typographical Union expired this year, and we were, therefore, obliged to make a new contract, under the terms of which the regular wages paid in the composing room were increased over eleven per cent. and the charge for overtime increased nearly fifty per cent.

The salaries paid in the news and business departments of The Herald have increased in the last five years over 100 per cent. When we first became connected with The Herald the total weekly pay roll for every department of The Herald was less than the pay roll now for the news departments; less than half of the pay roll for the business departments; scarcely half of the payroll for the composing room. In other words, the weekly pay roll of the Herald is now over five times as much as its pay roll then.

The monthly expenses for correspondents, telegraph and telephone, in addition to the Associated Press service, is now equal to what the pay roll was in 1897. Each year such expenses have increased, and it is inevitable that as the paper grows they should increase.

There are but two sources from which an honest newspaper can receive an income—from circulation and from advertising. It must receive from the advertising fair returns to justify its publication and permit it to be independent.

In view of these facts and that we have done everything possible to secure such a circulation as to make the advertising columns most valuable, have stinted no expense to give the advertisers the best service, having but recently installed in the Herald office new type and fixtures which cost over three thousand dollars, we believe every reasonable advertiser will agree that it is not only justifiable but necessary to increase the advertising rates, increasing them as we do to a very small extent.

The above article from the Lexington Herald contains nothing but facts and the same thing is more or less true of every newspaper published.

Flanders Wins.

The consolidated actions of Flanders vs. Stokley and Stokley vs. Flanders, appealed to the Court of Appeals from the Montgomery Circuit Court, has been affirmed on the original and reversed on the cross-appeal by the higher Court. This is a complete victory for Flanders, who was represented in the litigation by Attorneys W. B. White and Prewitt & Senff.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by a Mt. Sterling Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Mt. Sterling prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mrs. Mary Hinson, 21, Strother St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I believe that if I had not used Doan's Kidney Pills I would not be living today. My health was very poor and two of our best physicians stated that I had diabetes and could not expect to recover. They gave me a year to prepare for my sad fate. The kidney secretions were very unnatural and contained sediment and at times my body bloated. I was nervous and suffered severely from headaches and dizzy spells. Spots floated before my eyes and I often had to grasp something for support. My back was also very weak and I could not stoop to button my shoes, in fact, could hardly get around. I was so much impressed by a testimonial given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills that I decided to try them and procured a box at Duerson's Drug Store. They gave me immediate relief and I continued taking them until I was in good health. I have but little trouble from my kidneys now and for that reason recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly."

JUDGE BARKER

To Become President of State University on January 1.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of Kentucky State University Chief Justice Henry S. Barker, of the Court of Appeals, formally accepted the Presidency of the University, to take effect after his term expires on the Appellate Bench, which will be January 1 next.

Judge Barker said that he had never felt any doubt about accepting the Presidency of the University. The only reason he had not previously announced his acceptance was that it had been understood with the Board of Trustees when he was elected that he should announce his acceptance at the present June meeting of the board.

Judge Barker said he was tired of the work on the bench and at the bar and was looking forward with much pleasure to "settle down as a school teacher."

To Brick Street.

A petition is being circulated by the Maysville Street merchants, among the property owners of that territory, to ascertain their views on the proposition of bricking said street and it is meeting with great favor. In all probability the bricking of said street will be begun just as soon as the sewer is laid and the street settles sufficiently.

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they can, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Did you attend the Republican Congressional Convention? If not, read the report of the proceedings, containing many stenographic quotations from the speakers and then join in congratulating our Republican friends for the magnificent manner in which the machine worked. Never was such a piece of mechanism before exhibited in our city. Every detail having been perfected in advance, there was not a hitch to be seen and the steam-roller moved so noiselessly and effectively not a grunt was heard.

The delegates, composed largely of Republican State and county officeholders, revenue men, post-office employees and census takers, knew their lesson well. In order, however, to make assurance doubly sure, non-resident speakers were imported and practically the only privilege accorded residents of the District, was that of voting "aye."

WHO ARE THEY?

"There are two or three men in this district who are trying to dominate and dictate for the Democrats. They are too great a load for any party to successfully carry. The future will reveal the truthfulness of these remarks. These men play politics for two reasons. First, to use political power as business assets. Second, to try to pave the way to political preferment for themselves. These men have interests in the Standard Oil and the Coal trust and other trusts. Whenever any legislation either at Frankfort or Washington that will protect the people against these trusts is proposed, these men are on the spot with their political tools to strangle it."—Licking Valley Courier.

What is of interest to Eastern Kentucky is of interest to us, and we feel it the duty of Mr. Hurt, if he knows the names of these men, he owes it to the District to name them.

BY ACCLAMATION

Langley Made Nominee--Bradley and McKinley Make Strong Speeches.

At 2 o'clock last Friday afternoon, at the Court House in Mt. Sterling, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, amid deafening cheers from admiring fellow-republicans, Hon. Robt. H. Winn, of this city, Republican State Chairman, called the Tenth District Convention to order. After a short prayer by Rev. H. D. Clark, Chairman Winn announced the appointment of Hon. Theodore P. Blakey, of Lee County, as Secretary pro tem. In the absence of the regular Secretary.

The call was then read and the District Committee reported the selection of Hon. Allen N. Cisco, of Morgan county, as Temporary Chairman of the Convention and Hon. Robt. Blackburn, of Powell county, as Temporary Secretary.

Chairman Cisco was escorted to the chair and made a short speech of acceptance, thanking the delegates for the honor conferred upon him. After announcing the usual Committees on Credentials, Rules, etc., Mr. Henry S. Wood, of this city, introduced Senator Wm. O. Bradley as "The Biggest Republican in the State; in fact, the biggest Republican in the South and as far as I am concerned, the biggest man in the U. S. Senate."

Senator Bradley began with a story in support of his fear that his friend Wood had "taken in too much territory." He eulogized Congressman Langley at length urging all Republicans to lay aside little postoffice squabbles and other differences and give him their unanimous support. He also made a plea to the negro delegates present to stand by the Republican party, making mention of the fact that a Democratic Senator had introduced a resolution in the Senate, the effect of which was to repeal the Fourteenth Amendment and said "Any fool nigger that votes the Democratic Ticket should go to the Asylum; don't let any white man change your opinion for a five dollar bill." He described Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, as "The most useful man in the U. S. Senate to-day;" defended him for supporting Republican doctrines; denounced the newspapers for attacks on Senator Aldrich, "Uncle Joe" and the President, due, he said, to the failure of Congress to free list print paper and wool pulp. He then bitterly arraigned the Insurgents, "These Holier than thou, people," saying, "I am not a bolter, don't know how to bolt and if I can't get what I want, I will take what I can get." This statement caused one enthusiastic delegate to exclaim "You are the greatest man in the world" and the Senator smilingly remarked that the "territory had been increased." He then complimented President Taft and urged "every Republican and every patriotic Democrat to uphold his hands as the President of every American citizen." Some delegate then shouted, "Hurrah for Uncle Joe," and the Senator quickly replied, "Yes, I say, hurrah for Uncle Joe." The Democratic Party was described as a Party of dreams, saying "The dreamer mentioned in the Scripture must have been a Democrat." W. J. Bryan was compared with the Indian who loosed a passing locomotive and was buried at the next station in a sardine box. Considerable time was devoted by him to a defense of the tariff law, in which he undertook to prove it entitled to credit for the present high prices of farm products and not responsible for the present high cost of living. In conclusion on that subject he said "If every Democrat that is running around the country lying about the tariff law was killed, every man alive would have to dig a grave, dress a dead man or make a coffin." He here paused for a moment and one delegate thinking he intended to quit shouted, "Go on, go on, you are the biggest man in the house," to which the Senator replied amid laughter, "You don't take in enough territory." In concluding he said "Men of the Tenth District, the State is looking to you. We are looking to you, because you know you are brave, true and loyal; the nation is looking to you, because it wants a Congress that will stand by and uphold Republican principles. I know you will do your duty; I am not a bit afraid of it. If I were just as well satisfied I am going to Heaven, when I die, as I am that John Langley will be your next Congressman, I would indeed be a happy man. You don't want to cut your nose off, to spite your face; you have a good man; keep him white you have him. Don't 'swag' horses in the middle of the stream; remember what Father Lincoln said about that. I promise you that my voice shall be lifted in this campaign, as it has in every campaign in Kentucky for many years. I expect to see you all again and talk to you some more and while you are making this fight, I expect to march side by side with you so that when the victory is won, I can join in the shouting and say 'Hurrah for Uncle Joe'.

The delegates present cheered for several minutes and the band played "America." A significant thing was that in a speech of one hour and a quarter, the name of Theodore Roosevelt was never mentioned.

Congressman Duncan E. McKinley, of California, was then introduced and delivered a strong plea for Langley and a detailed defense of the present tariff law. His speech in this particular, was brilliant, carefully prepared and well received by all. Lack of space alone forbids us from reporting it at length. President Taft and former President McKinley and Roosevelt came in for a good share of praise and he concluded with a beautiful tribute in poetry to the American flag. Dozens of delegates rushed forward and shook his hand, he receiving as great, if not a greater ovation, than did Senator Bradley.

The Committee on permanent organization then reported the selection of Judge Jas. P. Adams, of Lee county, as permanent Chairman of the Convention and Hon. Ben W. Hall, of Montgomery county, as permanent Secretary. Judge Adams delivered a short speech of acceptance. This compliment to our fellow-townsmen Mr. Hall was a merited one, as he has labored unceasingly for many days in perfecting arrangements for the entertainment of our visitors.

The Committee on resolutions then reported, in which report the Republican National Platform was endorsed; the Administration of President Taft; the selection and course of Senator Bradley and that of Congressman Langley.

"The roll of Counties was then called for nominations and Major W. J. Seitz, of Morgan county, in a few well chosen words, placed the name of Mr. Langley before the Convention. Much amusement was created by his closing statement, "If I do not go to Heaven when I die, I want to be buried in Peter Cave precinct, of Martin county, wherein not a single Democrat resides." No other nominations being made, the nomination of Mr. Langley was made by acclamation. Pandemonium reigned for several minutes and the band played. Above it all,

Great Semi-Annual Cost Sale

AT

Spot Cash Grocery

ON

Monday Tuesday Wednesday

June 13 June 14 June 15

These are the 3 Big Days looked for by thousands of people, who know by our former sales, that this means a real feast for Bargain Hunters. Every article in the house goes at Actual Jobbers' Cost. If you had a wholesale house and a bank to back you, you could not buy Goods by the Car Load at less than we offer you Goods during this Sale. There will be, as usual, a Tremendous Rush, and we therefore ask our patrons to assist us by observing the following: Do not ask us to deliver AT ONCE, as we will deliver in rotation—first come, first served. Carry as much goods bought as possible, as during these Three days we will not deliver less than $2.00 worth of merchandise. Do not ask us to exchange goods during these Sale Days. Select your goods with as much dispatch as possible as all goods will be marked in plain figures and thus we will be better able to serve a larger number of buyers. No Telephone Calls will be answered during the Three Big Days. Do not expect our clerks to kill time by delivering a package of chewing gum or such trifling purchases to your buggy. Good Land in Wyoming.

A great many of our farmers and stockgrowers are leaving the United States to secure land. It seems strange that this should be the case, when we still have so much good land right here at home. In our section we have thousands of acres that I will venture to say will grow as good winter wheat as any of the Canadian land, to which so many of our good homebuilders and citizens are flocking. Some of this land, tried simply as an experiment, yielded 40 bushels of winter wheat without irrigation. This is not an exaggeration. The H. C. Co. is the only large land, but the Agency in

Last fall I selected a load of two-year old Hereford steers that were good enough to go to the International and win second prize in their division. These steers had only ordinary care. Besides I had 135 miles to take them overland to point in Idaho from where they were shipped to Chicago.

In this valley we have the best hunting and fishing in the United States. It is estimated that at the present time we have 30,000 elk in the valley. Besides deer, bear and other game. How much better it would be to keep at home this wealth now going to Canada. As the old Scotchman said, "Far away fowls have pretty feathers." There certainly must be more pleasure in living in your native land than among strangers. We have only to read the "Scottish emigrant's farewell" to get some slight idea of the loneliness of the "stranger in a strange land."

Throng of Buyers Continue.

The people of Mt. Sterling and vicinity appreciate the great advantage W. S. Lloyd obtained for them, in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.
Every bottle of the specific sold by W. S. Lloyd has had his personal guarantee to refund the money if it was not satisfactory, but none has come back, showing the wonderful curative power of this remedy.
If you have not already taken advantage of this chance to get a month's medical treatment for 25 cents, be sure to call at W. S. Lloyd's today, for he has only a small amount of the specific on hand. 48-52.

Farmers are receiving more attention from our Statesmen, Financiers, Captains of Industry and writers of magazine articles than any other class of American citizens, which indicates the growing appreciation of their importance. Given food and clothing as the result of the farmers' trade any one may acquire what more is necessary for a living, but the farmer he must feed them all.

Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear yourself out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort. Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking—none in outside heating.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much fuel—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat—no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it—consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is wonderful for restaurant use, but especially in summer. It heat operates upward to pan, pot, kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the nameplate reads "New Perfection."

Care of Brood Mares.

What to do with a mare and her young foal is a question causing needless worry to some of our readers. She may be put back in the harness and worked regularly or turned out to grass for the summer, but in either case some precautions are necessary for the best thrift of the foal and the health of the mare. Few farmers are supporting the luxury of a surplus of horses this season and most mares are needed at work. After a week's rest, or less if the work is light, she may go to work, but should be gradually accustomed through several days to an increased amount of exertion so that her system and that of the foal may not be shocked by a sudden change. Increase the mare's feed gradually as she swings back into work until she is taking about all she will eat three times a day of a milk producing ration. Corn may well be cut out of the feed entirely and oats, bran and a little oilmeal, as much as agrees with her, given instead. If half of the hay may be clover or alfalfa her milk flow will be still further increased.

The foal needs exercise but not more than it willingly takes.

JOHN A. JUDY,

Keep it at the barn at first while the mare works and allow it to play in a paddock with her at night. When it is accustomed to being left alone it may be turned in the pasture during the day until flies become vicious. The mare will stand the work better if kept away from the pasture until grass hardens somewhat with the advancing season. Then her milk flow may be stimulated without counteracting results by the freedom of the pasture at night. The colt should be fed what grain it wants and should at first be allowed to suck in the middle of the forenoon and afternoon as well as when the mare is fed. If the mare is not allowed to become very warm from extreme exertion, or worry, or because of the hot weather the foal will largely escape digestive disorders.

If the mare is to go to pasture with only her maternal duties to attend to, she must be gradually accustomed to the change from dry feed or the youngster will almost surely scour from an over-supply of milk and the change in quality. It is safer to continue feeding grain to the mare for some time—all summer if she seems to need it—and give her only a little grass at first, gradually increasing it as the foal becomes accustomed with her to the different feed. Sudden changes should be avoided.

Most disgusting skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned. m.

By Way of the Sausage Mill.

The sausage mill as a factor in beef cattle improvement is somewhat novel but none the less welcome. All things seem to be working together for the betterment of our beef stocks. The price level senses a shortage, soil robbery crises out for diversified agriculture and altitudinous pork prices send the butcher to the bulls for sausage meat. Bologna sausage bulls have recently sold as high as $5.50 per hundred in the Chicago market, and a drug net has been cast over the country for them, so insistent is the demand. May it mesies be so small that not a scrub escapes!

This encouragement to cash in the animal whose masculine character constitutes his sole usefulness on the farm should lead to a radical revision of common farm practices in breeding. It opens the way to the disposal of the inferior male at a price which will go far toward supplanting him with a sire of satisfactory blood-line and character. The desirability of bulls of the improved breeds is not often disputed by American farmers. The defense of their use of scrubs is usually balked in price. They declare they can not pay the price for "fancy" stock. The man who invented that term "fancy" as applied to improved stock is apt to have an account to settle with his Maker in the judgment day. It is a prime stumbling block to farm stock improvement. At it many a farmer shies and clings to scrub stock.

With so small a margin between the sausage price of the bologna bulls and the moderate values now commanded by acceptable bulls of the beef breeds, it should be easy to overcome the reluctance of the farmer to invest in blood that will work betterment. The sausage mill is a great saver of scraps. If it can use up our left-over supply of scrub bulls it will build an everlasting monument to its convolutions.

TOBACCO MEETING.

Tobacco Growers Hold Meeting and Discuss The Pool Question For 1910.

Montgomery county tobacco growers, both independent and Equity, held a meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon to discuss the advisability of 1910 pooling the crop this year. A good crowd of growers was present at the meeting, which was called to order by Asa Bean, County Chairman. S. English, Anderson, a large independent grower, was chosen chairman, and presided throughout the meeting. Mr. Bean was chosen as secretary. Speeches were made by J. R. Hobbs, Asa Bean and Colonel A. W. Hamilton, of the pool, and by E. E. Prewitt, B. F. Cockrell, and other independents expressed opinions on the matter and object of the pool. After the discussions a resolution was passed reading as follows:

"That it is the sense of this meeting that it is useless to undertake to make a pool in this county for the year of 1910 unless the District Board of the Burley Tobacco Company will incorporate the 75 per cent. clause in the 1910 pooling pledge."

Mr. Asa Bean, the member of the District Board from this county, was instructed to communicate the action of this meeting to the District Board at their meeting in June.

No attempt was made to get any signers to the pool at the meeting, it being held for the sole purpose of finding out the feeling of the growers as to the pool for this year.

The Sense of Duty.
A sense of duty pursues us ever. It is omnipresent like the Deity. If we take to ourselves the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, duty performed or duty violated is still with us, for our happiness or our misery. If we say the darkness shall cover us, in the darkness as in the light our obligations are with us yet.—Daniel Webster

Flexible Glue.
One part Venetian turpentine added to four parts of glue will make a flexible glue to attach leather to metals, says the Scientific American. The mass is heated in a glue pot until it becomes sticky and no more bubbles appear. A fresh mixture will work best.

Tribute to Womanhood.
Womanhood is the most sacred thing in life. When God made worlds and seas from His fingers like jewels on a string, planets and systems of planets, and then had called the various forms of His living creatures into being, even after He had made man the last and greatest creative act was the helpmeet for the man.—Exchange

For home-killed meats call on Greenwade.

Practical Economy.
If you would succeed in business, never spend a cent more than you earn. No matter how small your earnings, you should master this art. I use the word "art" advisedly, as so many young men appear to fritter away without so much as a thought, all their earnings.—Marshall Field.

Persing the Child.
Do not force a child unduly to practice the piano, lest it acquire a distaste for the study, which both child and parent may bitterly regret in later years, says Woman's Life. It is little short of a crime to compel any form of study in a child even though it happens to have a natural talent for a particular art.

For a nice steak, lamb chops, veal cutlet, pork chop or Spring chicken call on Greenwade.

Sold silk half hose at a half dollar.
Walsh Bros.

Friends in Need.
What need we have any friends, if we should never have need of them? They were the most needless creatures living, should we never have use for them, and would most resemble sweet instruments hung up in cases that keep their sounds to themselves.—Shakespeare.

Adventure in Hard Luck.
A man once asked Thackeray to lend him five shillings, which he would convert into £20,000. Asked how, he explained that he knew a young lady with £20,000 who he knew would marry him if he asked her, but he had pawned his teeth, and wanted five shillings to redeem them in order to propose. Effectively.—T. P.'s Weekly.

The Buttermaker's Ten Commandments.

By G. A. Anderson, Bowden, Alta, Canada.

1. Thou shalt keep thy cream sweet and in a cool place.
2. Thou shalt not say that thy cream separator and cows are clean enough, but wash them before using them.
3. Thou shalt not keep thy cream can for a fly or mouse trap, but cover thy can up.
4. Thou shalt remember thy cream days and come with thy cream to the creamery.
5. Thou shalt not take more than thy share of buttermilk, so thy neighbor will say that one hog haunts food for another.
6. Thou shalt not say that thy buttermilk is stealing and do so thyself.
7. Thou shalt not say that thy test is not high enough when thou art putting skimmilk or water in thy cream.

8. Thou shalt not go to thy neighbor and kick about thy buttermilk, but come to the creamery with thy kicks.

9. Thou shalt not make butter at home that weighs but thirteen ounces to the pound and say that thou canst make more butter than thy buttermilk.

10. Thou shalt not tell false loads about thy buttermilk as he has a reputation to keep up as well as thyself.

SHORTHORN SALE.

Communication From T. J. Bigstaff in Lexington Herald.

We do ourselves the pleasure of publishing a communication from Thomas J. Bigstaff, of Mt. Sterling, who was elected Vice President of the Kentucky Beef Cattle Breeder's Association at the meeting in Lexington last week.

Whatever will induce Kentucky farmers to take advantage of the opportunity that is theirs and receive the days when Kentucky was easily the leader of all the American commonwealths in the production of thoroughbred stock of every kind will be of untold advantage to this section.

As suggested by Mr. Bigstaff, the influence of Woodburn was as great in improving the character of the stock as was its reputation wide for high character and fair dealing. It is possible for Elmendorf to have fully as great, even greater influence, than did Woodburn.

Experiments of infinite value to Kentucky are being conducted on that estate under circumstances and with advantages such as are impossible in any other State. Not the least of these experiments is the rehabilitation of the beef cattle as a Kentucky product, and the success that the Elmendorf herd has had shows the wisdom of making the experiment and gives every assurance of its success.

The example should have—we trust will have—great influence in inducing others to secure the very best strains of blood and retain the best individuals of their herds, that once again the eyes of the country may be turned to Kentucky as the one place to secure the best individuals for breeding purposes.

STERLING STOCK FARM.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., May 26, '10.
To The Editor of The Herald: Lexington Ky.,

Dear Sir:—According to your request, I will write you my personal impressions of the public sale of shorthorn cattle yesterday at Elmendorf Farm.

This is the first sale of much importance held in our State for years, and means much to the cattle interests of Kentucky, in encouraging the future breeding of pedigree cattle in a State that in the past stood first in numbers and high prices of purebred shorthorn cattle.

That such a great and powerful establishment as Elmendorf should select the shorthorn, as the beef breed on which to use its best efforts, means not only the greatest credit to that great breed of cattle, but to the encouragement of beef cattle breeding to the country at large, and to the State of Kentucky in particular.

The history of our live stock shows what Woodburn did for us in years gone by, and Elmendorf is our main dependence for similar good work in the future. Mr. Haggin's "first annual sale" on the 25th inst., indicates that there will be other annual sales in the future from his great herd which will give Kentuckians an opportunity to get back into the business which at one time was so flourishing here, and has lately been too long neglected.

I think that the general average (over $500.00) was good and while I did not hear any extravagant prices, is all the better indication of a healthy demand on solid foundations for future prosperity in this business.

While Kentuckians do not appear as large buyers, many of the old-time breeders were present, showing their renewed interest, and the general distribution of these cattle from Canada to Texas has started our breeders to seriously thinking that the breeding of better beef cattle in the Blue Grass region is yet a paying business, and that it will take many years of organized and energetic increasing of our herds to supply the present cattle shortage so universally recognized. I believe this sale, so well and ably conducted, will bear rich and abundant fruit.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS J. BIGSTAFF.

Growing Old.

It is the solemn thought connected with middle life that life's last business is begun in earnest; and it is then midway between the cradle and the grave that a man begins to marvel that he let the days of youth go by so half enjoyed; it is the pensive autumn feeling; it is the sensation of half sadness that we experience when the longest day of the year is past, and every day that follows is shorter and the light fainter, and the feebler shadows tell that Nature is hastening with gigantic foot-steps to her winter grave. So does man look back upon his youth. When the first gray hair becomes visible, when the unwelcome truth fastens itself upon the mind that a man is no longer going up hill, but down, and that the sun is always westerling, he looks back on things behind. When we were children, we thought as children. But now there lies before us manhood, with its earnest work, and then old age and then the grave, and then home. There is a second youth for man, better and holier than his first, if he will look on and not look back.

Best and Most Economical Food for Hogs.

Alfalfa appears to be the ideal food for hogs, and pigs on alfalfa pasture will make an average gain of 100 pounds in a season. The number of pigs that an acre will carry depends on the vigorous growth of the alfalfa and ranges from ten to twenty head. According to the Kansas experiment station work, it took one bushel of corn to produce 7.56 pounds of increased weight in the hogs, or 740 pounds of cornmeal to make 100 pounds gain in live weight.

At the Canadian experiment stations the results of 464 trials conducted with 2,303 pigs gave, for swine averaging thirty-eight pounds, to make 100 pounds gain, 293 pounds of food. The lighter the pigs the less food, proportionately, it took to make a pound of gain; the larger the animal the more food was necessary for maintenance. The experiments demonstrate that the more profitable production was in medium rather than extreme weight hogs.
